

BIOGRAPHY OF MISPARINE MALAH NGANTE

My name is Misparine Malah Ngante, and I was born in 2001 at Ndu Baptist Health Centre as the youngest of six children. I began my education in primary school, attending until the third grade. I then transferred to King David Nursery and Primary School, where I completed my primary education in the academic year 2011/2012.

Subsequently, I enrolled in Government Bilingual High School Ndu, where I studied from the academic years 2012/2013 to 2014/2015. During that time, I faced a significant loss when my mother passed away; may her soul continue to rest in peace.

After completing my secondary education, I moved to Yaoundé and attended St. Joseph Anglo-Saxon High School. There, I successfully obtained my GCE Ordinary Level in the academic year 2016/2017, followed by my GCE Advanced Level in the academic year 2018/2019.

I then furthered my studies at the University of Bamenda from the academic year 2020/2021 to 2023/2024, where I earned a Bachelor's degree in Nursing and Midwifery, graduating as the second-best student with a Second Class Upper Honor.

Following my graduation, I applied for a position with the Cameroon Baptist Convention Health Services and was subsequently granted an offer to begin work on November 1, 2025.
